WASHINGTON, D.C. -- Works from the private collections of members of the Art Department of The George Washington University will be on exhibition in the university's Dimock Gallery from Thursday, October 16, through Friday, November 7. The members of GW's fine arts and art history faculty have principally collected works of European and American artists of the past and present.

There will be nearly 30 works shown in this one-time exhibition of professors' choices. Included will be the works of such world-renowned artists as Edouard Manet, Pablo Picasso, Giorgio de Chirico, Edgar Degas and William Hogarth. Enthusiasts for the more contemporary will enjoy the playfulness of
